THANKSGIVING WEEKEND EDITION**

It's Thanksgiving 2010. Yesterday was the busiest travel day of the year and tomorrow is Black Friday, the busiest shopping day of the year...

- ...And today is the day we DRINK TOO MUCH and TELL OFF OUR FRIENDS AND FAMILY.
- ...I'm STRESSED, BROKE and STUFFED just thinking about it!
- ...So if possible, use today to eat too much, loosen your pants and DOZE OFF by the TV.
- ...Don't eat too much...after all, you'll want to be able to FIT THROUGH THE DOOR at (WAL-MART / BEST BUY / SEARS)!

Let's hope that the winds aren't over 23-miles-an-hour in New York this morning, because if that's the case, Macy's will ground the large balloons in their traditional Thanksgiving Day Parade. The 23-miles-an-hour wind rule was adopted several years ago after powerful gusts played havoc with some of the parade balloons...

- ...And speaking of "powerful wind," Uncle Ralph is coming for dinner today. PEE U!
- ...Darn, I've enjoyed those times when UNDERDOG has BROKEN AWAY in an apparent attempt to FIGHT CRIME in JERSEY!

If you plan on bringing Thanksgiving leftovers home in your carry-on luggage, the TSA reminds you that leftovers such as mashed potatoes and cranberry sauce are considered liquids. The agency adds that anything "spreadable" has to be stowed away below the plane, including everything from gravy to salsa...

- ...Unless you're on an (IBERIA / AERO MEXICO) flight, in which case they're fine with the salsa! Ole!!!
- ...What about the stuff that's in your STOMACH? I mean, it STARTS OUT SOLID but turns to liquid...AND a whole lotta GAS!!!
- ...So you AND your leftovers are gonna be FELT UP.

A Pitt / Jolie insider says Angelina Jolie hates Thanksgiving, adding that Angie "hates this holiday and wants no part in rewriting history like so many other Americans." The insider adds, "To celebrate what the white settlers did to the native Indians, the domination of one culture over another, just isn't her style. She definitely doesn't want to teach her multi-cultural family how to celebrate a story of murder."...

- ...Oh c'mon, Toots, chill out and have a DRUMSTICK!
- ...(TRUE STORY FROM 2006!!!) Ya know WHAT ELSE Angie didn't like? The Thanksgiving when Jennifer Aniston had Brad' parents to her place for dinner.
- ...But...but...weren't the Indians PART OF the first Thanksgiving?

While appearing yesterday on Glenn Beck's radio show, Sarah Palin said: "We gotta stand with our North Korean allies." When Beck corrected her by saying it's "SOUTH Korea," Palin responded, saying, "Eh, yeah."...

- ...So basically she DIDN'T BELIEVE HIM.
- ...So later Sarah went on Twitter and RE-FRUIT-E-ATED her statement, or whatever (the hell) she incorrectly calls it.
- ...(AS S.P.:) "Oh I love that little, pajama-wearin' dude who runs North Korea...he's crazy as a bed bug and cute as a button! You betcha!"
- ...It's an understandable mistake as Sarah's still out of her mind upset about Bristol blowing it on "Dancing with the Stars."

In what is a first for Japan and perhaps the world, a long-haired Chihuahua named "Momo" - or "Peach" - has passed exams to become a police dog...

- ...Man, even the DOGS in Japan have to take an endless series of exams.
- ...Somebody call Pixar, I smell a sequel to "Kung Fu Panda."
- ...Oh sure, Officer Peach may shake like a epileptic tambourine, but one false move and she'll GNAW YOUR ANKLES CLEAN OFF.

Wayne and Laurie Hallquist of Stockton, California, have been awarded the title of world's tallest living married couple...

- ...Put it this way -- they have to go UP on each other.
- ...I know some of you think you have the LONGEST marriage title, but trust me -- it just feels that way.
- ...Invitations to their upcoming anniversary include the phrase, "enough with the basketball equipment, already."
- ...Well, (SIDEKICK) is six-two and he used to date a gal who was under five feet...he was NUTS OVER HER!!!

Astronomers have discovered an alien planet in our midst. The newly found planet is believed to have come from outside the Milky Way galaxy -- the remnant of another, fading galaxy that was consumed by our own. It's stuck on a 16-day orbit around a fading red giant star about 2,000 light-years from Earth...

- ...Great, now to keep out alien planets we have to build a GIANT WALL 2,000 light-years away.
- ...HEY, that planet is taking jobs away from AMERICAN planets, we can't be having that.
- ...Wait, that's not a planet, it's DELTA FLIGHT 184 out of DENVER.

The new Nissan Leaf reportedly gets as much as 99 miles-per-gallon...

- ...It's a miracle the engineering team on that vehicle weren't all MURDERED by agents for BIG OIL.
- ...Unfortunately it's got about as much (pickup / power / sex appeal) as a LEAF FLOATING ON THE WATER.

Two undertakers in the German city of Cologne are trying to tap into the gay market by selling coffins adorned with images of male nudes...

- ..."Hey, we can't get the LID CLOSED on this thing!"
- ...It's hard enough getting treated with basic human dignity if you're LIVING gay, can you imagine spending eternity being DEAD gay?
- ...Is that really the phrase you wanna use here, "TAP into the gay market"?
- ...There's not enough cologne in the world to make THIS issue smell good, no way, no how.
- ...It's part of their "lucky stiff" line of coffins.

Legendary 60-something folk singer Joan Baez fell about 20 feet recently while climbing down from her tree house in northern California. Baez sustained only minor injuries...

- ...Onlookers gave her tumble scores of 9.0, 9.0, 8.5, 9.5...
- ...Joan, sweetie...you're pushin' 70...exactly WHY are you climbing into a tree house?!?

New York Yankees star third baseman Alex "A-Rod" Rodriguez and movie star Cameron Diaz are reportedly dating again...

- ...Yeah, God forbid he go back to his WIFE & KIDS!
- ...A-Rod was too good for Cameron while he and the Yankees were WORLD CHAMPS, but now that he's back to CHOKING IN THE PLAYOFFS...
- ...A-Rod is off the 'roids and once again everything's apparently working "down there," so Cameron's back in the picture.

Michael Redd says he may finally return to the Milwaukee Bucks in February, following two major knee injuries in the past two years...

- ...At this point, he's just glad he doesn't have THREE knees.
- ...But if he sees his own shadow, it's two more years of physical rehab.
- ...You remember Michael Redd. He's the guy who USED to lead the Bucks to mediocre seasons.

The continuing battle between the Western Athletic Conference and Mountain West Conference could be elevated even further quite soon. WAC member Hawaii has been extended an invitation to the MWC...

- ...Hawaii's a state? I thought it was a province of KENYA. Did I miss something?
- ...Well, no matter which conference they're in, road games on the bus are a MAJOR pain.
- ...Four words to bury this controversy once and for all. Cheerleaders with grass skirts.
